ASRS News

ASRS to begin E-Communications to members!

April 2, 2012

In response to feedback from our members, the Arizona State Retirement System will begin sending timely communications via email this month.

The first introductory email is scheduled to be sent in early April to select groups of members and retirees who have provided their email address to the ASRS, so be sure to watch your inbox. Members should see "ASRS E-Communications" in the subject line.

We are excited about this new cost-effective method of communicating with our members.

Introductory emails to be sent out to members over the next several weeks will be followed by periodic electronic newsletters on a variety of topics, including news for active and retired members, legislative updates and more. Members won't be bombarded with email, just periodic updates on important news and information about your retirement system.

To ensure you receive the news and information you need, please take a moment to verify that we have your preferred email address on file.

To update your preferred email address, please follow these simple steps:

1. Log onto the ASRS website at www.azasrs.gov
2. Click on the Login Here button located at the bottom of our home page.
3. Log into your personal homepage. If you have not yet created a personal login, please take a moment to look at the "Guide to Online Registration" document conveniently located on that page to take you through this simple process.
4. Once you are logged into your personal ASRS homepage, you will be able to update your preferred email address as well as update the rest of your contact information.

While you are there, we hope you will take a moment to look around at all the tools, services and information now available to you in our secure, password-protected website. At the ASRS we are continually seeking ways to provide pertinent information and convenient services to you via our website - available to you online, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. It is part of our commitment to providing you service excellence.
